

Indiana Pacers

93.5/107.5/1070 The Fan is the flagship radio station for every Indiana Pacers basketball game.

But WFNI's association with our NBA team is more than just carrying the play-by-play!

Local prime time shows – with several unique perspectives on the team – are the place Indy gathers each weekday to hear insights about how the Pacers did in their most recent game or season, how they're preparing for their next.

The Fan Morning Show with Jeff & Big Joe wakes up Hoosiers with updates from the Pacers game the day before.

Midday host Dan Dakich provides insights from his decades experience as a former coach.

Kevin Bowen, a regular contributor and host of The Fan's most popular blog, has you completely covered with endless Pacers coverage on multiple platforms.

And include these attached photos next to short sentence about each radio programming content covering the Pacers.
